++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Early and late sleet or snow, bright at times west.

Today:
Patchy rain, sleet and snow largely dying out this morning. Eastern parts remain largely cloudy but western Stirlingshire and much of Perthshire will see sunny spells developing. During the late afternoon further outbreaks of sleet and snow edge north. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tonight:
Some clearer spells for a time across Perthshire through the evening, but generally a cloudy night with outbreaks of snow with rain or sleet towards the coast. Freshening northwesterly winds. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Thursday:
Rather cloudy with outbreaks of snow, with rain or sleet towards the coast, gradually clearing eastwards, with some afternoon sunshine developing. Feeling cold with occasionally strong northwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Cold with sunny or clear spells and, mainly across Perthshire and Stirlingshire, snow showers through Friday and the weekend. Occasionally strong northwesterly winds on Friday morning easing. Widespread overnight frosts.
